MEMORANDUM FOR: Dr. James Leong
Chairman, Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee

FROM: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: 25 September Nuclear Intelligence Panel Meeting

1. When I met with the Nuclear Intelligence Panel this morning, I was struck by the manpower being devoted to monitoring and verification as compared to the level being devoted to collection of intelligence on where the Soviets are headed, for example what they are up to with the testing program.

2. I would like to have your thoughts on how resources might be reallocated to provide a better balance between verification and intelligence collection.

3. I also would like you to draft a note for me to send to the members of the panel thanking them and commending them for their work.
